Medicinal Item.

Jones—Dr. Blow told me yesterday that during the past month he cured fifteen cases of grip.

Smith—That's strange! He told me he cured thirty cases last month.

Jones—He did, eh? Well, that shows that he thinks you are twice as big a fool as I am.—Texas Siftings.

The Way of the World.

"Yes," said Mrs. Fiveo'clock, "the family are most interesting. John dances divinely. Tom sings like an angel. David is a famous football player, and Susanne paints beautifully and belongs to the reading club."

"And Henry?"

"Oh, Henry! Well, he's rather dull, you know. He only works and supports the others."—Judge.

A LOGICAL CONCLUSION.

One of Them—There goes young Jack D'Or. They say his income is so large he can't get rid of it.

The Other One—Oh, so he's a single man, then?—Truth.

A Gigantic Task.

Physician—Madam, your husband is suffering from a severe attack of nervous prostration. He must have been laboring under a terrible mental and physical strain of late.

Mrs. Woody—For the past four weeks he has been engaged in at last consenting, at the earnest solicitation of his many friends, to permit his name to be used as a candidate for the legislature.—Puck.

In Another Case.

Mr. Delawanna—I want to sell my farm in Jersey.

Real Estate Agent—What is the price?

Mr. Delawanna—I'd like to get fifteen thousand.

Real Estate Agent—That's pretty high for a farm. You'd better call it a "country seat," and ask twenty.—Life.

Not a Philanthropist.

Bertha—Tom, this paper says Mr. Tightfist was "generous to a fault."

What does that mean?

Tom—Well, from what I know of Mr. Tightfist, I should say that it means he couldn't possibly be generous to anything else.—Harper's Young People.

A Serious Case.

Wife—You must send me away for my health at once. I am going into a decline.

Husband—My! My! What makes you think so?

Wife—All my dresses are beginning to feel comfortable.—N. Y. Weekly.

As Much as She Could Admit.

Mr. Wickwire—Now, my dear, you must admit that Mrs. White looked exceedingly well in her new gown.

Mrs. Wickwire—Y-e-s-s, the gown did look very well on her.—Indianapolis Journal.

Has Good Reasons.

Viola—But, papa, the marquis is charming, and he is certainly generous to a fault.

Papa—Well, he ought to be; he's got more of them than anybody I know of.—N. Y. World.

Should Have Known That.

Dr. Paresis (after examining Mr. Gargyle's condition)—What you need, my dear sir, is more exercise.

Mr. Gargyle—Doctor, have you forgotten that I am the father of twins?—Judge.

How Very Unpleasant.

Mr. Gusher (a self-satisfied bore)—I can tell just what people are thinking of me.

Miss Pert—Indeed! How very unpleasant it must be for you!—Brooklyn Life.

The Heart of Art.

Customer—What does that picture represent?

Artist—Two hundred dollars; but you can have it for a hundred and fifty plunks, spot.—Detroit Free Press.

Not Facts.

"I fear," said the postage stamp, when it found itself fastened to a love letter, "that I'm not sticking to facts."—Indianapolis Journal.

More Perfect.

Doctor—You cough more easily this morning.

Patient—I ought to—I practiced all night.—Hullo.

A Short Answer.

Beggar—I've lost a leg—

Gruff Old Party—I didn't find it!—Hullo.

GENERAL GLEANINGS.

The breweries are said to have controlled practically of two evening newspapers in London.

Of the nine thousand five hundred and forty-two in-patients of London Temperance hospital, alcohol has been used in seventeen cases only.

The state auditor of Kentucky reports 1,213,133 barrels of distilled spirits listed for state taxation during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1893.

The DeBeers Diamond Mining Co., which employs many thousands of South African natives, has adopted stringent rules for the exclusion of intoxicating liquors from their mines.

The temperance movement in Great Britain is receiving a powerful impetus in the highest social quarters. The duke of Devonshire has promised to support the duke of Westminster in his effort to establish a licensing reform association, the aim of which shall be the gradual suppression of the licenses of publicans.

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND says: "It is fearful to think of it—but in this nation of the United States over one billion dollars annually are spent in the direct traffic in intoxicating liquors, besides its being the direct cause of the waste of much more money. Men are unable to work because of injury done to their appetites by drink. Time is absorbed in drinking; the country's resources are scattered to the wind. It would be much better if the money given to drink was taken and cast into the lake; at least it would then leave behind it no harm."

The predisposition to use spirits is often latent, and may remain so for a lifetime in vast numbers of persons. They are from accident never exposed to the exciting causes which would have started into activity at once from these causes. The medicinal use of spirits as a stimulant in debility is a common cause; the use of spirits from exhaustion, anemia, or in some emergency, are all followed by the same results. In many instances these early causes are overlooked, and when inebriety appears later, it is ascribed to other conditions.—Journal of Inebriety.

SOME notion of the enormous consumption of beer in the civilized countries of the world may be gained from the fact that last year no less than 3,000,000,000 gallons of beer were imbibed in Europe alone. Germany, of course, headed the list of consumers with 1,051,000,000 gallons. Great Britain being a good second with 855,000,000 gallons; third came Austria with 800,000,000 gallons, while France and Belgium were "bracketed fourth" with 720,000,000 gallons apiece. Denmark "tails" the list with a miserable 145,000 gallons. Of extra-European countries, the United States and Canada, of course, come first with an annual consumption of 800,000,000 gallons, Australia taking second at 32,500,000 gallons. The above figures, of course, represent round numbers.

Commissioner's Sale

Valuable Mill Property, And 73 Acres of Land.

LINCOLN CIRCUIT COURT.

Farmers Bank and Trust Company of Stanford, Ky., Plaintiff, against W. M. Duddar, James A. Duddar and Ann Duddar, Debtors.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale hereon at the October term, 1893, of this court, the undersigned Commissioner will before the court-house door in the town of Stanford, on

Monday, June 11th, 1894,

County court day for Lincoln county, sell at public outcry to the highest and best bidder, the following described property, to-wit: A tract of land in Lincoln county, on the waters of the River, containing 73 Acres, and bounded as follows: North by the lands of John T. Taylor, South and East by the lands of Henry Taylor and West by the lands of C. M. Sprounser, but for a more particular description of the lands by metes and bounds, the judgment of sale herein is referred to.

This tract of land includes the valuable Mill Property known as Duddar's Mill, the dwelling house and other improvements. The other three tracts mentioned in the judgment and directed to be sold will not be sold, for the reason that they have heretofore been disposed of and plaintiff has received the benefit thereof.

The whole, or so much as will be necessary, of the 73 Acre Tract will be sold as well satisfy the debt of plaintiff for $2,319.00, with 6 per cent. interest from July 3, 1892, until paid, and the further sum of $1,071.74, with 6 per cent. interest from July 3, 1892, until paid, and its costs, herein expended, subject to a credit of $2,425.51, paid January 13, 1894, proceeds of Hottel's notes. The sum to be raised to cover plaintiff's debt and all costs to day of sale, $5,101.45.

Terms of Sale: A credit of six months. Bond with approved personal security with six per cent. interest from day of sale, having the force and effect of a judgment and payable to the Com'r. Lien retained.

Dr. S. F. Scott, of Blue Ridge, Harrison county Mo., says: "For whooping cough, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is excellent." By using freely the disease is deprived of all dangerous consequences. There is no danger in giving the Remedy to babies, as it contains nothing injurious, and so can be safely given to the youngest child.

Persons who sympathize with the afflicted will rejoice with Dr. E. Carr, of 1435 Harrison street, Kansas City. He is an old sufferer from inflammatory Rheumatism, but has not heretofore been troubled in the climate. Last winter he went up into Wisconsin and in consequence has had another attack. "It came upon me again very acute and severe," he said. "My joints swelled and became inflamed, sore to touch and almost to look at. Upon the urgent request of my mother-in-law, I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm to reduce the swelling and ease the pain, and to my great surprise it did both. I have used three 50c bottles and believe it to be the finest thing for rheumatism, pains and swellings extant." For sale by Dr. S. G. Hocker, Druggist, Stanford.

See the World's Fair for 15 Cents.

Upon receipt of your address and 15 cents in postage stamps we will mail you our Souvenir Portfolio of the World's Columbian Exposition.
